PROGRAMME PROJECT REPORT (PPR)

Chhatrapati Shahu Ji Maharaj University

Kanpur

(Category-1 and NAAC A++ University)

About the Program

The program typically refers to a Bachelor of Arts degree that is offered through distance learning, allowing students to study remotely without the need to attend traditional in-person classes. These programs are often designed to accommodate the needs of working professionals or individuals who are unable to commit to a full-time, on-campus program due to various reasons such as job commitments, family responsibilities or geographical constraints. Chhatrapati Shahu Ji Maharaj University, a category-1 and NAAC A++ university is offering those students a best and easy path to develop their skills. Program is of 3 years i.e. 6 semesters. The Bachelor of Arts program is a broad-based program with a mix of disciplinary based courses. It is designed to provide the learners with the information and skills necessary to understand and analyse their world by introducing them to the main themes and topics of disciplines in Languages, Arts, Humanities and Social Sciences.

Vision of the University

To enlighten and empower humanity by nurturing future leaders and change agents for universal development and societal transformation.

Mission of the University

To work towards sustainable excellence in global standards of academia, technology-centric learning, robust research ecosystem, institutional distinctiveness and harmonious social diversity.

- I. Mission and Objectives: The mission and objectives of an open program for a Bachelor of Arts (BA) would be tailored to cater to a diverse range of learners who seek accessible, flexible, and high-quality education with a mix of disciplinary based courses in Languages, Arts, Humanities and Social Sciences. Here's a proposed framework for the mission and objectives:

1. Mission Statement:

The mission of open Bachelor of Arts (BA) program typically revolves around providing accessible and flexible education to students who may not have the means or opportunity to attend a traditional on-campus program. Here are some key components that often define the mission of such programs:

- The mission of the open BA programs prioritize flexibility in learning pathways, allowing students to tailor their educational journey to their individual needs, interests, and circumstances. This flexibility may involve self-paced study and modular course offerings.

- In line with the philosophy of open education, the program often promote lifelong learning by encouraging students to engage in continuous personal and professional development. The mission may include providing opportunities for ongoing education and skill enhancement beyond the completion of the BA degree.
- Open BA programs aim to empower individuals by providing them with the knowledge, skills, and credentials needed to pursue their personal, academic, and career goals. By offering accessible and affordable education, these programs contribute to social mobility and equitable opportunities for all.

2. Program Objectives:

The objectives of an open Bachelor of Arts (BA) program are designed to align with its mission of promoting universal access, flexibility, inclusivity, and empowerment. Here are some common program objectives for an open BA program:

- To ensure that the program is accessible to individuals from diverse backgrounds, including those who may face barriers to traditional higher education, such as geographic location, financial constraints, or prior educational experiences.
- To deliver a high-quality educational experience with engaging course content and rigorous academic standards.
- To implement inclusive teaching practices and learning materials that accommodate diverse learning styles, backgrounds, and abilities, ensuring that all students have equitable opportunities for success.
- To offer personalized support and guidance to students throughout their academic journey, including academic advising, mentorship, and access to resources for academic and career development.
- To continuously evaluate and improve the program based on feedback from students, faculty, and stakeholders, ensuring that it remains responsive to the evolving needs of learners and the broader community.

Program Outcomes:

The outcomes of an open Bachelor of Arts (BA) program reflect the knowledge, skills, and competencies that students are expected to acquire by the time they complete their degree. These outcomes are aligned with the program's objectives and are designed to prepare graduates for success in their personal, academic, and professional lives. Following are program outcomes for an open BA program:

II. Relevance of BA Program in Chhatra Pati Shahu Ji Maharaj University Kanpur's Mission and Objectives

Chhatrapati Shahu Ji Maharaj University Kanpur, a premier landmark of higher education in Uttar Pradesh is named after the great social reformer Chhatrapati Shahu Maharaj also known as Rajarshi Shahu. It is a well-established and respected educational community where students of all backgrounds study and work together in a congenial and encouraging academic atmosphere. The university is geared to provide maximum scholastic benefit to each individual student and nurture them to achieve their full potential and evolve as a responsible global citizen. The University understands the need of literacy in India & firmly believes that education has to bespread to the general masses. To reach with the above motive of service to the every corner of India, the CSJM University is starting its Dronacharya Centre of Open & Distance Education (D-CODE) from the session 2024-25.

- Multidisciplinary Education: A Bachelor's degree program often covers a broad spectrum of topics, including political science, economics, sociology, literature, and history. The goal of CSJMU to promote holistic education is in line with this interdisciplinary approach.
- Understanding of Culture and Society: BA programs explore different societies, cultures, and historical settings. This is in line with CSJMU's aim to promote cultural awareness and an appreciation of many points of view.
- Critical Thinking and Analytical Skills: The success of both academic and professional endeavors depends on critical thinking, analysis, and communication skills, all of which are emphasized in BA degrees. In order to equip its students for the difficulties of the modern world, CSJMU strives to cultivate these kinds of skills in them.
- Research and Innovation:
The university prioritizes research and innovation, an open BA program can support this objective by encouraging scholarly inquiry, promoting interdisciplinary research collaborations, and fostering the dissemination of research findings in humanities and related fields. The program can serve as a hub for intellectual exchange, innovation, and knowledge creation, contributing to the advancement of economic knowledge and practice.

Overall, the relevance of an open BA program to Chhatrapati Shahu Ji Maharaj University, Kanpur's mission and objectives lies in its potential to expand access to quality education, promote lifelong learning and community engagement, foster research and innovation, and contribute to the university's broader goals of academic excellence and societal development. By aligning the program with the university's values and priorities, it can serve as a valuable resource for learners, faculty, and communities both within and beyond the university's campus.

III. Nature of prospective target group of learners:

In an open program for a Bachelor of Arts (BA), the prospective target group of learners is even more diverse compared to traditional programs. Here's an overview of the nature of the prospective target group:

- 1. Non-Traditional Students: Open BA program often attract students who do not fit the typical mold of full-time, on-campus learners. This may include working professionals, parents, caregivers, or individuals with other commitments that prevent them from pursuing a traditional, full-time academic program.

2. Flexible Learners: Prospective students of the program tend to value flexibility in their education. They prefer this study options that allow them to balance their studies with work, family, or other responsibilities. As such, they may appreciate program that offer asynchronous learning, self-paced courses.
3. Lifelong Learners: This program often appeals to individuals who view education as a lifelong pursuit. These learners may be motivated by personal or intellectual curiosity rather than specific career goals. They seek opportunities to deepen their understanding of economics and engage in scholarly discourse outside of a formal academic or professional context.
4. Career Advancers: Some prospective students in open BA programs are looking to advance their careers or transition to new roles within the field of economics or related areas. They may already have some professional experience but seek additional credentials or specialized knowledge to enhance their career prospects.
5. Global Learners: This program has the potential to attract a geographically diverse student body, including learners from different countries and cultural backgrounds. These students may be seeking an internationally recognized qualification or wish to gain insights into economic issues from a global perspective.
6. Economically Diverse Students: The program appeals to students from diverse socioeconomic backgrounds who seek affordable and accessible educational opportunities. These learners may appreciate programs that flexible payment options to make education more accessible.
7. Skill Up-graders: Some prospective students may enroll in an open BA program to upgrade their skills or transition to new career paths within humanities or related fields.
8. Specialized Learners: This program attracts the students with specific interests or career goals within a mix of disciplinary based courses in Languages ,Humanities, Social Sciences. These learners may seek programs that offer specialized tracks, concentrations, or elective courses tailored to their areas of interest.

Overall, the nature of the prospective target group in an open BA program is characterized by diversity in terms of background, motivations, and goals. As such, these programs should be designed to cater to the unique needs and preferences of a wide range of learners, offering flexible learning options, accessible resources, and opportunities for personalized academic and professional development.

IV. Appropriateness of program to be conducted in Open and Distance Learning mode to acquire specific skills and competence

Conducting a Bachelor of Arts (BA) Program in an Open and Distance Learning (ODL) mode can be highly appropriate for acquiring specific skills and competence for several reasons:

- 1. Flexibility: This program offers flexibility in terms of time, location, and pace of learning. Learners can access course materials, lectures, and assignments remotely, allowing them to balance their studies with work, family, or other commitments. This flexibility enables learners to acquire new skills and competence without having to put their careers or personal lives on hold.
- 2. Accessibility: This program is accessible to a wider range of learners, including those who may face barriers to traditional, on-campus education due to geographical, financial, or personal constraints. Learners from diverse backgrounds and locations can enroll in the program without having to relocate or commute to a physical campus, thereby increasing access to education and opportunities for skill development.
- 3. Self-paced Learning: ODL program often employs self-paced learning approaches, allowing learners to progress through the curriculum at their own speed. This self-directed learning model empowers learners to take control of their education, focus on areas of interest or weakness, and allocate time and resources according to their individual learning needs and preferences.
- 4. Applied Learning Opportunities: This program incorporates practical, hands-on learning opportunities to help learners apply theoretical concepts to real-world situations. Virtual simulations, case studies, group projects, and internships can provide learners with practical experience, problem-solving skills, and industry-relevant competencies that are essential for success in the field of economics.
- 5. Cost-Effectiveness: This program is more cost-effective compared to traditional on-campus programs, as they typically require fewer physical resources and infrastructure. Additionally, learners can save on expenses related to transportation, accommodation, and other incidental costs associated with attending classes in person.

Overall, conducting an BA Program in an Open and Distance Learning mode can be highly appropriate for acquiring specific skills and competence, as it offers flexibility, accessibility, self-paced learning, technology-enhanced instruction, applied learning opportunities, personalized support, and cost-effectiveness. These features make ODL program an attractive option for learners seeking to enhance their skills and competencies while balancing their professional and personal commitments.

V. Instructional Design of Open and Distance Learning mode to acquire specific skills and competence:

Designing the instructional framework for an Open and Distance Learning (ODL) mode of Bachelor of Arts (BA) program to acquire specific skills and competence requires careful consideration of various factors to ensure effectiveness, engagement, and learner success. Here's a structured approach to instructional design for such a program:

A. Curriculum Design

The curriculum of the Bachelor of Arts program, designed with the help of industry expertise, Bloom's taxonomy and faculty knowledge, provides students with a comprehensive and up-to-date education in the field of business administration. By incorporating the latest knowledge and trends, the curriculum ensures that students are prepared for the demands of the modern business world. Bloom's Taxonomy is used to build learning objectives that focus on developing higher order thinking skills, such as critical analysis, problem solving, and evaluation, which helps students gain a deeper understanding of economic concepts. The expertise and subject knowledge of faculty adds depth and breadth to the curriculum, providing students with the tools they need to succeed in their future careers. With a strong emphasis on practical learning and real-world applications, the curriculum of the Bachelor of Arts equips students with the skills and knowledge needed to succeed in today's competitive business environment.

The open Bachelor of Arts program has a number of disciplines and courses from different Schools of Studies. At present, the following seven Disciplines are part of the program:

1. Education
2. Economics
3. English
4. Political Science
5. Hindi
6. History
7. Sociology

E. Instructional Delivery mechanisms & Identification of Media

The teaching methodology of this subject will be different from other traditional methodologies. Courses (regular/physical) are held at the university. A student-centered and student-friendly approach is required in distance courses. This is also important because learning and teaching are delivered through print media rather than face-to-face communication.

(i) Self-learning materials (SLM) should be developed in print media.

- Self Learning Material (SLM) will be self-explanatory, self-sufficient, self-directed, self-motivated and self-assessable.
- The SLM will contain a complete course description including an overview of the modules, as well as objectives, activities, tasks and additional resources.
- There must be a description of the approved value for each unit or unit of the course.
- There should be clear guidelines regarding academic integrity and netiquette expectations regarding activities, discussions, and plagiarism.
- The level and style of presentation and language should be simple and appropriate to facilitate e-learning.
- The content must be interactive with the appropriate use of graphics, animation simulations, etc. to keep students interested.

(ii) Student support service systems

The main goal of student support service systems is to promote independent or independent study. Study among distance learners in the absence of regular face-to-face teaching. All the time Educational support will be provided to students. Support will be available all the time in the following areas:

- Information, tips and advice about the programme.
- Advice before admission, during admission, and after admission.

- Introduction for new students.
- Provide academic advising schedules and practice schedules.
- Evaluate students and exchange feedback.
- Support with other academic and administrative inquiries such as registration and examination Rating, comments, etc.

ECONOMICS

B.A. (Economics)
Semester: I Paper -1

Core Course: A080101T Principles of Micro-Economic

Credit:6	CIA:25 Marks	ESE:75 Marks	Maximum Marks: 100

Course Outcome:

- The students are familiarized with basic concepts of microeconomics such as laws of demand and supply and elasticity etc so that he/she can comprehend them & familiarize with day today happenings.
- The students learn and understand the concepts of consumer behaviour like cardinal utility and ordinal utility analysis.
- The students learn and understand application of Indifference curve analysis in deriving demand curves, price effect, income effect and substitution effect.
- The students learn and understand the Theory of production-iso-quants, laws of returns to scale, law of variable proportion.
- The students learn, understand and compare between the Traditional and modern theory of cost.
- Demonstrate an understanding, usage and application of basic economic principles.
- Describe and apply the methods for analysing consumer behaviour through demand and supply, elasticity and marginal utility.
- To analyze the behavioural patterns of different economic agents regarding profit, price, cost etc.
- The decision-making process in different market situations such as perfect competition, monopolistic competition, monopoly and oligopoly markets.
- To deal with the advance theoretical issues and their practical applications of distribution theories.
- General equilibrium, economic efficiency and market failure.

Blocks	Units
Block-1: Utility Demand analysis	Unit-1: Introduction of Micro-economics and Problem of Scarcity , opportunity cost; production possibility frontier; economic systems Unit-2: Demand and Supply :law of demand. determinants of demand, shifts of demand versus movements along a demand curve. market demand, law of supply, determinants of supply, shifts of supply versus movements along a supply curve, market supply, market equilibrium. Applications of demand and supply: price rationing, price floors, consumer surplus, producer surplus. Elasticity: price elasticity of demand, calculating elasticity, determinants of price elasticity, other elasticities. Unit-3: Consumer Theory: Budget constraint, concept of utility, diminishing marginal utility, Diamond-water paradox, income and substitution effects; consumer choice: indifference curves, derivation of demand curve from indifference curve and budget constraint. Theory of Revealed Preference
Block-2: Cost and Production	Unit-1: Production: behaviour of profit maximizing firms, production process, production functions, law of variable proportions, choice of technology, isoquant and isocost lines, cost minimizing equilibrium condition Unit-2: Costs: costs in the short run, costs in the long run, revenue and profit maximizations, minimizing losses, short run industry supply curve, economies and diseconomies of scale, long run adjustments. Unit-3: a. Consumer and Producer Theory in Action

	Externalities, marginal cost pricing, internalising externalities, public goods; imperfect information: adverse selection, moral hazard, social choice, government inefficiency
Block-3: Market Structure	Unit-1: Perfect Competition: Assumptions: theory of a firm under perfect competition, demand and revenue; equilibrium of the firm in the short run and long run; long run industry supply curve: increasing, decreasing and constant cost industries. Welfare: allocative efficiency under perfect competition. Unit-2: Monopolistic Competition: Assumptions, SR& LR price and output determinations under monopolistic competition, economic efficiency and resource allocation. Unit-3: Monopoly competition: short run and long run price and output decisions of a monopoly firm; concept of a supply curve under monopoly; comparison of perfect competition and monopoly, social cost of monopoly, price discrimination; remedies for monopoly: Antitrust laws, natural monopoly Unit-4: oligopoly: assumptions, oligopoly models, game theory, contestable markets, role of government. Markets and Market Failure Market adjustment to changes in demand, efficiency of perfect competition; sources of market failure: imperfect markets, public goods, externalities, imperfect information; evaluating the market mechanism.
Block-4: Input Market and Welfare Economics	Unit-1: Input markets: demand for inputs; labour markets, land markets, profit maximization condition in input markets, Input demand curves, distribution of Income. Unit-2: Welfare Economics: Concept & Definition of Welfare Economics. Normative & Positive Economics. Concepts of Social Welfare. Role of Value Judgment in Welfare Economics. Individual & Social Welfare. Pareto Optimality, Conditions of Pareto Optimality.
