About Value Added Course

Tools play a very vital role in any research endeavor without which research work would be incomplete. Tool is the only important factor required for proper data collection which leads to appropriate measuring technique and thus help in arriving at perfect conclusion. Due to this reason, one should have accurate knowledge of construction and standardization of tools. Beside this one other factor one should know about the ethical principles of conducting research. Ethics is a branch of Philosophy that deals with morals. It is the philosophy of what is right and wrong. Ethics is the branch of philosophy that theoretically, logically and rationally determines right or wrong, good or bad, moral and immoral. Research ethics provide guidelines for the responsible conduct of research to ensure ethical standards. It is worthwhile mentioning that research ethics is a key part of advanced learning in all academic disciplines.

Keeping this in view, Department of Education, CSJM University is organizing ten days value added course on “Fundamentals of Tool Construction and Research Ethics” for Post-Graduate students and Research Scholars aspiring to conduct quality research. The Value-Added Course will include Lectures, hands-on sessions and question/answer sessions for quality learning experiences. Duration of this course is 30 hours (15days).

Objectives of Value-Added Course:

This course is intended to equip participants with skills of tool construction and conduction of research based on ethics. It aims at:

1. Impart knowledge about importance of tool construction in research.
2. Providing knowledge of steps of tool construction.
3. Developing skills of standardizing the research tool.
4. Creating awareness over the rules and changes over time across disciplines or nations in research.
5. Inculcating information about the regulations, policies, status and guidelines that govern the conduct of research.
6. Creating awareness about the grey areas and ambiguities of ethical issues.

Learning outcomes:

After completion of this value-added course, participants will be able to:

1. Understand the concept and types of research tools.
2. Construct the tools (achievement test and rating scales) and done their standardization.
3. Identifying the appropriate research tool for specific research.
4. Get acquainted with the rules and regulation of publication.
5. Get aware about various policies, rules and regulations related to research ethics.

Pedagogy:

This value-added course is based on an effective blend of lectures, hands-on practice session and Q/A sessions on Tool construction and research ethics with the help of relevant examples. Sessions will be conducted on hybrid mode.

Who Should Attend?

- It is multidisciplinary topic: Post graduate students and research scholars.
